The pillars of its strategic planning are:

 Product quality Quality consists of guaranteeing fulfilment of client requirements, complying with the highest standards to produce products that exceed their expectations. Maintaining permanent communication with its clients to acquire continuous improvement.	 Occupational health and safety Its employees are the basis for its success and therefore their safety and health protection are fundamental for the company. This requires that at all times the employees follow all the instructions they receive; meaning that risks are detected in time to avoid injury as well as the promotion of occupational health and safety programmes to maintain the health of its employees.
 GMP (Good manufacturing practice) Good manufacturing practice (cleanliness of facilities, equipment and personal hygiene) is the basis for adequate and careful product handling in order to guarantee pureness and cleanliness.	 Supply chain safety Supply chain safety is very important for the company. Therefore, it is focussed on the safety of its facilities, personnel safety, product safety, information safety, and environmental safety. This type of management is supported by maintaining the requirements as Authorised Economic Operator - AEO
 Environmental protection and maintenance The company is committed to protect the environment because it is the basis for the existence and future of the next generations. Therefore, it reduces negative environmental impacts, making an efficient and rational use of natural resources, adequately separating and disposing of generated residues, working in line with environmental legislation. It protects and provides forest sustainability and generates an "Environmental protection maintenance" culture.	 Company and social responsibility The social commitment of the company is reflected in the non-employing of minors, non-discrimination by sex, religion, political ideologies, etc. The company takes cares for and protects the environment, the well-being of its employees, contributing to education, and support of governmental programmes, promoting regional development.
